
KAREN (LEAFFER) SCHAUBLE

Karen (Leaffer) Schauble is a recognized leader in the area of nonprofit law, having practiced in some of Denver's largest, most respected law firms for more than 20 years before forming a firm solely focused on nonprofits. She is also a community leader, a mentor and an entrepreneur. It is her extensive experience, combined with her lifelong dedication to serving nonprofits, which makes her a sought-after resource for nonprofit organizations and their advisors.

Experience

Karen serves as both general and special counsel to nonprofits, advising them on corporate, tax and transactional matters, such as:

- Regulation of private foundations, supporting organizations and donor-advised funds
- Corporate governance, best practices and implications of Sarbanes-Oxley for nonprofits
- Corporate philanthropy and social enterprise
- Scholarships, disaster relief grants and international grants
- Intermediate sanctions and self-dealing
- Executive compensation audits and reporting
- Tax-exempt financing and low-income housing tax credits
- Unrelated business income tax
- Corporate sponsorships and other fundraising matters
- Public policy development, advocacy, lobbying and political campaign activity
- Fiscal sponsorship programs and grants
- Regulation of trade associations
- Management of endowment funds and other restricted gifts under UPMIFA
- Strategic alliances, joint ventures, taxable subsidiaries and nonprofit/for-profit combinations

Karen currently serves as managing editor and contributing author of A Guide for Colorado Nonprofit Organizations (second edition 2018), a role she has served since the Guide's inception in 2007. She previously served as chair of the Nonprofit Entities Subsection of the Colorado Bar Association and past chair of the Tax Section.

Karen holds the prestigious Martindale-Hubbell AV Preeminent® ranking, was recognized as a 2018 Lawyer of the Year in nonprofit/charities law by Best Lawyers in America®, and was named to the Super Lawyers® Top 50 Women list. On a local level, she received the Denver Business Journal's Outstanding Women in Business award in the law category and was often named Barrister's Best Nonprofit Attorney by Law Week

Colorado. She is a well-known speaker and has published numerous articles on legal issues of importance to nonprofit organizations and foundations.

In addition to her community, civic and political involvement, Karen is invested in family. As a recent empty nester – with a son in the Army and twins in college and South America – Karen is actively working her way through her bucket list. She is a frequent traveler both abroad and in the United States, and regularly returns to her roots in Eastern Washington/Northern Idaho. She enjoys taking walks with friends and spending quiet time at home working in her garden, or with Toby, her rescued “Chiweenie” and her big black lab Stella.
